Welcome Letter

August 2009

To ALL TRESPO Participants

On behalf of everyone at Bobit Business Media, I welcome you to the 19th Annual TRESPO East Conference and Expo! Whether this is your first visit to TRESPO East or you're a returning veteran, we are delighted you could join us!

As publisher of POLICE Magazine, I've had many opportunities to discuss with you your concerns. This year as so many state and local governments have faced budget shortfalls, your training funds have likely been a target of budget cuts. TRESPO is dedicated to providing valuable training to individual officers at a nominal cost. When you review this year's conference schedule, you will note there are more tracks than ever before led by some of the finest law enforcement instructors in the world. They are here to teach you the skills that you need to fight and win against the many growing threats to officer and public safety.

Once again, TRESPO East is offering continuing education credit for all conference attendees! Attendees will receive 0.2 credits for each 8 hours of training at TRESPO including keynotes and Range Day! Credit will be provided by Northcentral Technical College (NTC), a regional training academy that provides basic law enforcement and corrections training, specialized training, instructor training in unified tactical subjects, and is the home of the Redman Training Division. NTC is accredited by the Wisconsin Department of Justice and the Higher Learning Commission.

TRESPO East will, yet again, feature the ever popular Tactical Medicine track. The all-day Tactical Medicine program is for any SWAT or patrol officer who wants to learn how to be a SWAT medic.

In addition to this track, the TRESPO East conference program will include a Close Quarters Defensive Tactics hands-on track. You can also receive classroom training in a wide variety of topics, including: Defensive Tactics (hands on), Homeland Security and Terrorism, Tactical Operations, High Risk Security/Executive & VIP and Officer Survival.

Leslie Pfeiffer Maris, Publisher, POLICE Magazine & POLICE Recruit Magazine

On Thursday, join us for a full afternoon of specialized extended training programs, many of which are free.

Our biggest news this year is that Lt. Col. Dave Grossman is returning for a two-part keynote presentation: "The Bulletproof Mind." Anyone who has ever seen Dave's dynamic performance knows that this is a "must see" keynote. Come early on Wednesday and Thursday and get a good seat. You are sure to be inspired, energized, and entertained.

For the first time, this year at TRESPO East we will conduct a panel session on Active Shooters. Moderated by Cleveland SWAT veteran Robert J. O'Brien, the panel—Don Alwes, Ron McCarthy, and John Benner—will discuss first response and tactical unit response to active shooters in a variety of environments, including schools and businesses.

On Wednesday and Thursday, the market's leading exhibitors will present cutting-edge technology and equipment on the trade show floor with many new products being introduced for the first time! Plus, you'll be able to try out the latest weaponry at a special Range Day on Friday at the Blue Ridge Arsenal with transportation provided from the convention center.

Our trained and responsive Event, Conference and Magazine staff are dedicated to making this year's TRESPO East the best event in first response history. We trust that TRESPO East will exceed your expectations and provide you with full value. Thank you for attending the East Coast event of TRESPO's 2009 Conference and Expo.

LT. COL. DAVE GROSSMAN

The Bulletproof Mind: Psychological Preparation for Combat

Lt. Col. Dave Grossman is an internationally recognized scholar, author, soldier and speaker who is one of the world's foremost experts in the field of human aggression and the roots of violence and violent crime. Col. Grossman is a West Point psychology professor; Professor of Military Science and an Army Ranger who has combined his experiences to become the founder of a new field of scientific endeavor, termed "killology." In this new field, Col. Grossman has made revolutionary contributions to our understanding of killing in war, the psychological costs of war, the root causes of the current "virus" of violent crime that is raging around the world and the process of healing the victims of violence, in war and peace. He is the author of "On Killing", which was nominated for a Pulitzer Prize. Col. Grossman is an Airborne Ranger infantry officer and a prior-service sergeant and paratrooper with more than 23 years of experience in leading U.S. soldiers worldwide. He retired from the Army in 1998 and has devoted himself full-time to teaching, writing, speaking and research. Today, he is the director of the Killology Research Group, and in the wake of the 9/11 terrorist attacks, he is on the road almost 300 days a year, training elite military and law enforcement organizations worldwide about the reality of combat.

The students will integrate into their professions, an understanding and application of measures for prevention, response and survival in the face of a new kind of domestic and international terrorism, as represented by the attacks in NYC, Littleton, Oklahoma City and Jonesboro. The students will combine an understanding and application of the effects of physiological arousal upon humans faced with close-range interpersonal aggression along with an understanding in order to limit and prevent undesired physiological arousal in these situations. They will also incorporate physiological arousal in close-range interpersonal aggression in order to limit and prevent post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD). Students will gain knowledge of stress inoculation to close-range interpersonal aggression factors in order to limit and prevent undesired physiological arousal in these situations.

TRACK 1 - Homeland Security and Terrorism

0800-1200 hrs

A First Responder's Guide to Terrorist Detection and Prevention - Room #3

Ed Lovette, CIA (Ret.); James Stalnaker, San Bernardino County Sherriff's Department; Richard Valdemar, Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department (Ret.); Corporal Lamar Blakely, Berkeley County Sheriff's Office

This seminar will focus on the guidelines for the first responder and learn how to be proactive rather than reactive. You will get a brief history of terrorism past and present, lessons learned, intelligence gathering and community resources. You will be provided information on how to recognize behavioral patterns of a potential terrorist. Learn their communications, planning, preparation, target selection, means of attack, financing and cell structure. What threats do we face today and in the future? Find out what to do at the scene of a suspected or known terrorist attack.

In this seminar you will gain knowledge and skills with specific information regarding how terrorists operate in the U.S., indicators of possible terrorist activity which the officer might encounter while on patrol, and how to use these indicators to detect-investigate-disrupt the terrorists before they can carry out their plan.

1300-1500 hrs

An LEO's Guide to Countering IEDs - Room #2

Joint IED Defeat Organization

Michael Register, Project Manager, Joint Expeditionary Team (JET) JIEDDO Operations Division; Lt. Col. Mark Wickham, Weapons Technical Intelligence Officer, JIEDDO; Dr. Robert Best, PhD, JIEDDO

This seminar will provide the first responder, trainer and supervisor an introduction to the technology, tactics and training used in the C-IED fight. In this fast paced class you will be presented some of the fundamental lessons learned from our fight in Iraq and Afghanistan. You will learn about basic counter-IED techniques used on the ground today and the signatures that can identify the elements that make up IEDs as they flow through the IED network. You will be exposed to the DoD's premiere organization charged to coordinate the C-IED fight and what training opportunities are available to the law enforcement community.

TRACK 2 - Tactical Operations

0800-1000 hrs

Policy Procedure & Liability Considerations for Firearm Instructors - Room #5

Glen Hoyer, Director, Law Enforcement Division, National Rifle Association, Law Enforcement Division

This presentation is geared to assist firearm instructors, administrators and ranking officers with how to build a firearm training program that will help you to train effectively, while meeting your needs to establish a proper Policy and Procedure, which in turn will reduce your liability.

1000-1200 hrs

Active Shooter Response - Room #5

Don Alwes, Lead Instructor, NTOA

This course will cover the most current active shooter response concepts and tactics, including hasty and instant responses. A review of recent incidents and analyses of current and future threats will be included.

1300-1500 hrs

Legal and Ethical Considerations for SWAT Team Management and Deployment - Room #5

Stuart Meyers, Chief Executive Officer, OpTac International, Inc.

This presentation contains research on SWAT Blue Death and why are we killing ourselves. This information is presented as part of: Legal and Ethical Considerations for SWAT Team Management.

TRACK 3 - Officer Survival

0800-1000 hrs

Firearm Disarming and Weapons Control - Room #1

Dave Young, Director of Training - RedMan Training Division

This seminar will cover firearm and long gun disarming tactics for attacks to the front and rear of the officer, effective counters to disengage, control and actively engage these types of threats and other use of force options that will save your life in any threat by a firearm or other long guns.

It is recommended that students bring their assigned duty gear with training firearm, mouth piece and groin protection. Tactical Gear is accepted as well.

1000-1200 hrs

Street Survival for the Female Crime Fighter - Room #2

Betsy Brantner Smith, Dave Smith & Associates; Street Survival's Caliber Press; Police One TV

This seminar examines the psychological & physiological differences between men and women and how these affect training, equipment, communication and leadership from the perspectives of the officer, the trainer and the manager.

1300-1500 hrs

Close Quarters Grappling - Room #1

 Dave Young, Director of Training - RedMan Training Division

This seminar will cover effective control tactics for controlling the distance, disengagement tactics, strikes and take down, short escapes and use of force options that will save your life in any life threatening environment for tactical operators or patrol officers wearing firearms and other tactical gear.

It is recommended that students bring their assigned duty gear with training firearm, mouth piece and groin protection. Tactical Gear is accepted as well.

TRACK 4 - High Risk Security/Executive and VIP

0800-1200 hrs

E.P. and Law Enforcement Officers - Room #6

John Sexton, Founder and CEO, Sexton Executive Security, Inc.

This seminar will be an introduction to E.P. as it pertains to the Private Sector and comparing the duties and roles of civilian E.P. to Police Officers performing similar duties when the need arises.

2009 TREXPO East Full Program Description

1300-1500 hrs

Vehicle Dynamics for Security & Law Enforcement - Room #6

Anthony Ricci, President, Advanced Driving & Security Inc. (ADSI)
As law enforcement officers become eligible for retirement many begin to explore the Corporate Security Industry. In this seminar we will discuss the drivers role and responsibilities in the security detail, learn the basics of designing route surveys and touch on the human side of the security driver, vehicle dynamics and the environment that they could potentially drive through.

TRACK 5 - Tactical Medicine

0800- 0900 hrs

Remote & Extended Time-Frame Tactical Medicine – The Next Step - Room #7

Dr. Marshal Keith Brown, Assistant Professor, University of Nebraska School of Medicine

We will discuss previous experiences, current status, and future needs and opportunities for remote and extended care by tactical medical providers, emerging technologies, and close with a 'back to the future' perspective on remote and extended tactical medical care.

0900-0945 hrs

Expanded Scope Needs of Tactical Medics- Room #7

Art Geffen, MS PA, Project Manager, Global Operational Resources Group, Inc., Iraq, U.S. Army (Ret.)

As EMS revises and rolls out the latest version of pre-hospital medical education and practice, tactical medical providers have a great opportunity to be advocates for our unique needs and solutions. We will look at specific areas where proven remote and special operations medicine is being applied on the streets.

Tactical Medicine European Style – Lessons Learned from North America- Room #7

David Connell, CEO GOR UK Ltd, Global Operational Resources Group, Inc.

You will gain different perspectives on the place of tactical medicine, TEMS education, and field therapies will form the basis for lessons learned that will intrigue and you and challenge some North American dogma!

1115-1200 hrs

Training with Tissue vs. Simulators- Room #7

Dr. Marshal Keith Brown, Assistant Professor, University of Nebraska School of Medicine

Realistic training is the hallmark and touchstone of tactical medicine education. We will examine both ends of the training spectrum and explore what platforms are most suitable for particular educational goals.

1300-1345 hrs

Tactical Medicine Myths- Room #7

Art Geffen, MS PA, Project Manager, Global Operational Resources Group, Inc., Iraq, U.S. Army (Ret.); David Connell, CEO GOR UK Ltd, Global Operational Resources Group, Inc.; Douglas C. Kimbell, EMT-P, RCP, TOMSS, Program Manager of Operational Medical Education, Global Resources Group, Inc.

Like it or not, medical myths and dogma without factual support is still pervasive in tactical and pre-hospital medicine. We will use a dynamic interactive discussion style to slay some sacred cows and drive some stakes through the hearts of medical myths, misconceptions and outright BS.

1415-1500 hrs
